The Veedee Vibrator is a small hand power machine intended to relieve and cure bodily ailments by nature's method. By its use instant relief is felt, which goes far toward encouraging the patient to complete his cure.

I shall be pleased to show you the Vibrator. Every cell, nerve, fibre and tissue is stimulated into normal activity. A few minutes treatment will convince any one that this is true. You can feel that it is true. You don't have to take anyone's word for it. You will say "There is the thing that really does the work."

For facial massage there is nothing like vibration to rest the tired muscles and smooth out the wrinkles, stimulating the circulation and building up the under-skin, the real basis of a beautiful complexion.

SOCIAL EVENTS OF HARRISBURG

HARQUA HALA, March 27, (Regular Correspondence Journal Miner).—Social events on the desert seem to be keeping pace with the general prosperity now existing. Many mining men who are visiting the district, are not only convinced of the great mineral resources but of the hospitality of our enterprising residents.

We have to chronicle a very pleasing instance which occurred at the old Bonanza, on Sunday last. S. C. Workman, of Torrington, Connecticut, secretary and treasurer of the Socorro Gold Mining Co., with his estimable wife, who are guests of Professor and Mrs. F. C. Smith, also of the Socorro, were invited to meet a few invited guests by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Martin at the old mine, where an elaborate feast was prepared. The guests invited were Mrs. F. C. Smith, Mrs. Hanna with Maud and Grace, Marcella and Gladys Martin, Wm. Patch, Miss Matthews, Frank and Ernest Graham, Bob Kimbal and B. J. Quinn. C. W. Coit, of Buffalo, New York, was also present and is now a guest of J. B. Martin, he being one of the owners with Mr. Martin of the Harqua Hala mine.

Mr. and Mrs. Workman were very favorably impressed with our flowers, green grass and climate, and were somewhat surprised to witness many good roads and such prosperity so far from a railroad. Mrs. Workman was surprised at the amount of gold which was horded out of for her benefit. Mr. Workman expressed himself well pleased with the showing, now being made by the management at the Socorro, and in fact the entire company have reason to be elated, as their whole plant is being run on good business principles.

Mr. Coit is rather reluctant to leave our sunny clime and seems pleased with his holdings in the famous old Bonanza. Mr. Coit's arrival was in a very opportune time as a very rich strike had just been made, ore having been found which runs very high in gold. The new cyaniding plant for the property is on the road and on arrival will be placed in shape and the large tailing dumps will be worked.

Otis E. Young and wife are in Prescott for a short stay. On their return Mr. Young will begin operations on his Harqua Hala property, which is situated about eight miles from the new railroad. Nate.

REPAIRING THE BRIDGE

Work on the damaged Santa Fe bridge at this place is progressing rapidly and the foreman of the gang on this side of the river said yesterday that probably the temporary structure would meet in midstream in five days.

That was, of course, providing nothing unexpected occurred. Several things are apt to happen, however, that may seriously interfere with their progress. On this side of the stream work is being pushed night and day. Yesterday six bents had been entirely completed and the first tier of that many more was done. On this side the piling is driven to within a couple of feet of the surface of the water and another tier of timbers is built on top of these piles. On the north side of the river one pile suffices for the entire distance from the track to the solid ground below. The piles are sixty feet long and are now being driven in fourteen feet of water. The current is very strong and the work is of such a nature that nothing can be accomplished after dark. They have finished six full bents there, though, and the space between the two ends of the bridge is steadily growing smaller.

The workmen are now wondering what they will find when they reach the spot where the pier stood. There is no way of telling whether it is in the way or not, as no sign of it has been seen since the night of the disaster. It is not very likely that it floated away and consequently they are looking for trouble when they get to where they think it stands.—Republican.

Charges Excessive.

Speaking of the expense of maintaining boys in the territorial industrial school, the Republican says:

"The board of supervisors yesterday received the bill of the territorial industrial school for the last quarter for the care of the boys sent from this county. The bill shows that the rate per day has been reduced from sixty-four to fifty-five cents.

"There is a general feeling that it ought to be further reduced and until a cheaper way is found to run the school it is not likely that many boys will be sent from this county. Some of the counties, notably Yavapai, have withdrawn their patronage of the school entirely.

"No boy has been sent from Maricopa since the discovery was made some weeks ago that it would be cheaper to buy the boys scholarships in Yale or Harvard.

"There is a sentiment among the supervisors of all the counties that there are too many paid officials about the school, one for every two boys. It is contended by the school management that they are all needed and that no more would be needed if the attendance at the school were a great deal larger than it is. Then they say that the expense per pupil will be greatly reduced.

"It is thought, however, that the management of the schools by the board of control instead of by the board of trustees will bring about a great reduction."

Railroad is Assured.

Searchlight and El Dorado Canon are to be linked by bands of steel with the outside world, says the Los Angeles Times.

A new standard gauge railway from Iden, thirteen miles west of the Needles on the main line of the Santa Fe, to the prosperous mining camps is absolutely assured, and actual work of construction will begin in less than thirty days.

The final survey of the new road has been completed and it is expected that the line, which will be a feeder for the Santa Fe, will be in operation in ninety days after work has been commenced.

Col. C. A. Hopkins, president of the Quartette Mining company of Searchlight, is at the head of the new undertaking. Prominent mine owners in the two camps have subscribed the necessary money and the bonds have been placed without seeking an outside market.

A prominent Santa Fe railway official, who returned yesterday from Needles after he had inspected the proposed new route, is authority for the announcement that the new line will shortly be constructed.

"Needles, Searchlight and Northern" is the name of the company which will operate the new road. Starting from the main line of the Santa Fe at Iden Station, the road will traverse a flat desert country, requiring little grading, to Searchlight, thirty-seven miles distant, thence on to El Dorado Canon at the head of navigation on the Colorado river. No bridges will be required and the curvature will be reduced to the minimum. It is estimated that the road will cost approximately $500,000.

"Tonnage" is a factor that need not be computed in estimating the wisdom of the venture, for the output of the larger mines at Searchlight and El Dorado Canon is in sight. A great saving in the cost of transportation will be made when the road is finally completed.

Mutually Hypnotic.

"Mutual hypnotism" is the cause assigned by Dr. Paul Allen, who occupies the chair of materia medica in New York Homeopathic college, for the strange sleep, now lasting thirteen days, of Mrs. James H. Heustis and her daughter Luella, says a New York telegram. The two women lie in their deep trance at Presbyterian hospital, and until the suggestion exercised by each upon the other is broken, neither will be broken, neither will awaken according to the alienist.

"Very likely," said Dr. Allen, one woman has hypnotized the other. This would open the way for auto-suggestion, and the circuit would be complete. Often such patients may be awakened by an outside suggestion stronger than that exercised upon each other. For instance, in the case of hystero-epilepsy, the patient might be told that boiling water was to be poured upon him. When cold water is then dashed upon the body, the suggestion that it is boiling water revives the patient.

It is quite probable that both hear and understand what is going on around them without power to express themselves by the slightest move of the muscles. Their food is forced down their throats, the swallowing muscles being powerless.

Up to a late hour tonight, neither showed signs of awakening. It is probable that both will recover consciousness at the same time, unless the sleep ends in death. In that case, Dr. Allen's remarkable diagnosis will be almost proved.

The attention of the medical world is centered upon the curious case.
